LOCAL ITEMS.

Robert Fitzpatrick is a guest at the Montezuma hotel, from Chicago.

Free concert at the Montezuma garden tomorrow afternoon, commencing at 3:30 o'clock.

President William Schuckmann of Las Dos Naciones Cigar Company of this city, is out on the road on company business.

H. M. Claggett, with Roy & Titcomb, Inc., is back from a very successful business trip in the interest of his big local firm.

Mrs. L. E. Carrillo and the children will arrive in the city today from Tucson. They will in future make Nogales their home.

L. Lulley this week had the misfortune to lose his handsome, valuable gray driving horse. It was shot to put it out of its misery.

A. C. Bernard is a business visitor in the city, from Guaymas, where he owns the great Hotel Albin, of which F. M. Crocker is manager.

Alex Carpena has purchased the Fregoso building on Morley avenue and will remove the old structure and erect instead a handsome up-to-the-minute home for his haberdasher business.

Ed. Chase, formerly with Roy & Titcomb, Inc., now connected with a mining company at Patagonia, accompanied by his family came to town Tuesday night for a visit of several day with friends.

Mr. U. F. Bender, the mining man who has been operating a gold mill down near Santa Ana, Sonora, accompanied by his wife left Tuesday morning for California, expecting to be absent from the city during the heated season.

F. X. Pellier, manager of Hotel Arcade, one of Hermosillo's popular hotels, accompanied by his wife came up from the capital city Thursday, and yesterday Mrs. Pellier went east to spend the summer with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Harrison, who have a fine ranch near Lochiel, this county, spent Wednesday in the city, having come to meet their son Lewis, who has returned from the Tempe Normal school, to spend the summer vacation at home.

E. H. Evans, for a long time connected with the Washington Trading Company, at Patagonia, left this morning for Los Angeles, to enjoy a couple of week's outing. This is the gentleman's first vacation in many years and he anticipates having a fine time.

George Watt, of this city, who superintended the erection of the smelter at Cobre Grande, property of the Sonora Company, near Noria, Sonora, is enjoying a visit at home with his family. George has had many years experience and fully understands his business.

Wednesday morning Mrs. Chalfant, wife of E. L. Chalfant, the Wells-Fargo Express messenger running between Nogales and Mazatlan, departed for Los Angeles, Cal., where she will spend the summer with Mr. and Mrs. George A. Lonsberry, formerly of Nogales.

Colonel Gardner of the Four Metals Mining Company, is a guest at the Montezuma hotel from the east. The colonel says he is having great success in getting the legal affairs of his company fixed so that stockholders will soon know "just" where they are at.

The state department at Washington announces officially that it has been assured officially that the Chinese never contemplated the sending of a warship to Mexico to assist in the collection of the indemnity for the killing of several hundred Chinese by Mexican insurgents during the revolution.

The remains of C. V. Nelson, the young American engineer who died suddenly at Tepic, Mexico, from the sting of a scorpion, passed through Nogales Tuesday en route to Knoxville, Tenn., the former home of the dead man. Deceased was 29 years of age. At the time of his death he was in the employ of Grant Brothers' Construction Company. He only lived four hours after being stung.

H. Wheaton, of Magdalena, near where he and his brother L. N. Wheaton, have mining interests, came up from the south Wednesday morning, and after transacting private business returned south the same night.

Harry Overlock, cattle inspector, has resigned that position to enter the customs service under Collector of U. S. Customs O'Keefe, and will be stationed at Naco, Arizona. Harry was very popular with the stockraisers, who will regret to learn that he has resigned the position of inspector.

Tuesday night Harry Greenwell, president of the Greenwell-Arizona Mining Company, returned from the east where he had been on business connected with his company. He found everything at camp under the supervision of L. E. Gashe, progressing in a very satisfactory manner.

Wednesday, June 14th, was Flag Day, the 134th anniversary of the birth of our flag, or its adoption by the Continental Congress. The day was generally celebrated throughout the land with appropriate exercises. Many flags were displayed in Nogales by those who love the dear old emblem of liberty.

J. B. Alexander, who for many years has been connected with the Indian school at Phoenix, is today visiting in the city, a guest of his friend Harry Creighton. Mr. Alexander expressed himself as being delighted with our climate, and says he does not blame the citizens of Nogales for being fond of their town.

The Sixty Cavalry band, now giving nightly concerts in the city park, is said to be the best military band in the army. It certainly is the best many of our people ever had the pleasure of hearing. The band composed of twenty-five pieces, arrived Wednesday evening from Fort Huachuca. It will remain here indefinitely.

Captain Frank Glasson, of the revolution Mexican army, writes from Hermosillo to his parents Mr. and Mrs. John Glasson of this city, that he is well and getting along fine. Frank is a good, brave boy; he is one of the best rifle shots in Sonora, and takes kindly to the war game. We wish him good luck and rapid promotion.

Thursday Paymaster Wallace, U. S. A., made soldiers of the Sixth Cavalry happy by handing them their monthly stipend, much of which was immediately put in circulation. The boys are a happy-go-lucky bunch, good-natured and well-behaved. Since coming to Nogales they have put several thousand dollars in circulation here.

George D. Cross came in from the National Camp Thursday to purchase camp and mine supplies. Just at present, however, George says there is very little doing at his camp, but he hopes soon to again work his claims, which he believes have the making of paying mines. Ed. Kundell of the Kundell Mine, Colorado, is associated with Mr. Cross.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. Luis Joffroy passed away at the family residence in this city, after a lingering illness, during which everything possible was done to save her life. Deceased leaves a husband and a large family to mourn her passing. The funeral was held yesterday, a large number of friends and acquaintances being in attendance.

Thanks to the untiring efforts of Secretary W. C. Budge of the Board of Trade, the Sixth U. S. Cavalry regimental band is now giving Nogales music-loving people the treat of their lives. Thanks are also due our citizens who so liberally subscribed money to pay the expense of bringing the splendid musical organization here from Fort Huachuca.

William E. Pomeroy, the mine manager from the San Xavier, Sonora mining district, where he is in charge of a big mine, was a visitor in the city a couple of days transacting business. All during the recent unpleasantness in Sonora, Mr. Pomeroy has operated his property without interruption from the rebels who were quite numerous in his section of the country.

A large specimen of copper ore from the Buena Vista mines owned by Messrs. Cox, Hurst and Lininger, is on exhibition at the Montezuma hotel, where it attracts considerable attention and favorable comment. Two shipments of ore similar to that at the hotel, brought the lucky owners splendid returns. It is understood that parties are negotiating for the property.

J. C. Pyle, of Butte, Montana, a prominent mining engineer, on his way to Sonora and Sinaloa, Mexico, passed south the forepart of the week, expecting to be gone a month, on mining business. Mr. Pyle has been in the employ of Senator Clark many years.

Tomorrow Mr. Hermann Klausner, the Toledo, Ohio oil expert, will depart for the Pacific coast, stopping en route at Tucson where he has private business. We hope the gentleman will decide to return to Nogales; during his short stay here he has made numerous friends. All join in wishing him success.

Sheriff H. J. Saxon is now raising thoroughbred polo ponies at his ranch place north of the city. Trust the sheriff to get the money. There is big money in polo horses, some of them bringing as much as $300. Since the Americans again defeated the English for the world's championship, great interest is being taken in the exciting game, and good ponies are in demand at fancy prices.

Thursday Secretary Budge of the Board of Trade sent a lengthy telegram to Washington urging a favorable report on statehood by senate committee. Other commercial organizations throughout Arizona also wired the senate committee demanding a square deal from the people's servants in the United States senate, where the statehood bill has been pocketed, with the adjournment of congress only a few weeks away.

Thursday D. C. Franklin entertained at dinner, Colonel Jose A. Garcia, commander of the Mexican soldiers stationed at Nogales, Sonora. The colonel was accompanied by two of his chiefs and one of Colonel Cabral's captains, a well educated young gentleman from Guaymas, who was one of the first to take up arms against the Diaz government. Colonel Garcia is a born soldier and a brave man, dearly loved by his men.

The Pioneer Hardware House on Morley avenue, one of the city's oldest land-marks, owned and managed many years by Hon. Theo. Gebler, has moved into Mr. Gebler's own building on the west side of the arroyo, opposite the railway depot, on Grand Ave., where old friends, and new ones too, are cordially invited to call and inspect the mammoth stock of goods carried by this popular old pioneer house. "Papa" Gebler will treat you right.

Col. O'Shea, business manager of the Tucson Citizen, accompanied by two charming daughters, spent last Sunday pleasantly in Nogales, guests at the Montezuma hotel. Col. O'Shea and the ladies attended the banquet in Nogales, Sonora, given to the Mexican soldiers, by the citizens of Nogales. He also secured interesting data and pictures for a magazine story, in which Colonel Juan Cabral and his soldiers will occupy a prominent place.

At the banquet tendered the Maderista soldiers last Sunday in Nogales, Sonora, the good ladies of the town served soldiers whose age ranged from eleven to seventy-five years. A more orderly, well-behaved body of soldiers it would be impossible to imagine. Patriotic speeches were made by citizens of Nogales, Colonel Cabral and a number of his soldiers. It was indeed a most happy occasion, one possible never before witnessed in the great Mexican republic.

P. M. Edwards, who will be pleasantly remembered by many people of Nogales when he was manager of the George B. Marsh, Inc., has returned to again take a responsible position in the big store, which is now being personally managed by Mrs. Marsh, widow of the late George B. Marsh. Mr. Edwards is an experienced undertaker and hardware man. There is no detail of the business he does not thoroughly understand. We are glad to see him again in the big store, and wish him success.

Yesterday afternoon a captain in Col. Cabral's command rode across the international line with his side arms on, and was at once disarmed and detained by one of Uncle Sam's soldiers doing guard duty on the line. The captain said he had been given permission to cross the line by one of the U. S. customs guards, and did so without intending to violate the neutrality law. The sentinel who arrested him notified his commanding officer of his action and the Mexican officer was at once given his arms and permitted to return to Mexico.

Lieutenant Fred Krohn, for several years confidential agent for the Southern Pacific railroad company on the West Coast, has removed his family to Nogales from Culiacan, Sinaloa, where they have been residing. After getting the family comfortably located on West Elm street, Lieutenant Krohn returned to Culiacan, his headquarters. He was there during the attack and surrender of the city, and reports the loss of life and property enormous. Three days after the battle the body of a man was found on top of his house. The man had been shot many time by the rebels.

Major Loreto E. Carrillo, of Tucson and Elgin, has purchased the Nogales Meat Market and Cold Storage, and will in future personally manage the business, which will be kept up to its present high standard. Major Carrillo has had a great deal of practical experience in the meat business—both on the hoof and on the block—and will do his utmost to please the citizens of Nogales, by giving them the best of everything in his line at prices that are right. He has also taken over the local agency for the famous Schlitz beer, which will be kept in his big cold storage. Major, we wish you success.

Trains on the Sonora railway are again running on the old schedule, the train south leaving Nogales at 10 o'clock at night, returning will arrive here at 7 o'clock in the morning. The following is the schedule between Guaymas and Mazatlan: South bound mixed extra leaves Guaymas at 9 a. m.; arrives at Navojoa 2 p. m.; leaves Navojoa at 5:20 p. m.; arrives at San Blas at 10:30; leaves San Blas at 6 a. m.; arrives at Mazatlan at 9:30 p. m. Northbound passenger leaves Mazatlan 6 a. m.; arrive at San Blas at 9:30 p. m.; leaves San Blas at 5:30 a. m.; arrives at Navojoa at 10:00 a. m.; leaves Navojoa at 10:20 a. m.; arrives at Guaymas at 6:20 p. m. See regular time table.

Attorney A. A. Worsley of Tucson, one of the old pueblo's successful lawyers, was a visitor in the line city Tuesday, on business connected with the customs smelter to built at the junction of the Twin-Butte and Nogales-Tucson railroad. A number of Nogales citizens subscribed for stock in the smelter which will be a benefit to this section of the country. Mr. Worsley says the work of erecting the plant will be commenced at once and pushed to completion as rapidly as possible. The gentleman is also interested in land near Casa Grande, where Attorney F. J. Duffy and Dr. Smelter and Kingsley recently acquired land. Mr. Worsley believes the Casa Grande country has a bright future, and advises his friends to get some of "the soil."

Hon. Francisco Morales, one of Sonora's best known, most prominent citizens, has been spending the past ten days in the city, accompanied by his family and a party of friends. Mr. Morales, who is very popular in his state with the revolutionists, is being urged to run for vice governor of the state. The gentleman is qualified in every respect to fill any high position of trust in the gift of the Mexican people, and should he decide to enter the race, no doubt would be given the hearty support of his friends who are very numerous throughout the state, especially in the Ures and Guaymas districts where he and his distinguished family have resided many years. Mr. Morales is an educated gentleman of most pleasing personality whom it is a pleasure to meet. During his short visit he has made many new friend.

C. G. Huss, special officer for the Southern Pacific, with headquarters in Tucson, spent Thursday in the city on official business. Huss in company with Special Officer Daley of Tucson last Saturday arrested John Williams, the colored gentleman who a several weeks ago stole a valise from Mr. William Schuckmann, president of Las Dos Naciones Cigar Company. Williams was traveling on the same train with Mr. Schuckmann between Tucson and Nogales, when he stole the valise and threw it out of the car window near the railroad grading camp. A search failed to find the missing valise, at the time, but Huss has been on the lookout for the thief and last week rounded him up at Buckeye where he and other colored folks were working in the beet fields. The valise and most of its contents were recovered and Williams made to pay a fine of $25.00.
